

Los Angeles Times

California: Big Sur's new Roadhouse restaurant is stagin' Cajun

Pick up a seabass po' boy sandwich or tuck into some Southern-fried chicken lollipops on your next trip to or through Big Sur. The coastal Cajun flavors are created by Chef Matt Glazer (yes, he has New Orleans cred) for the new Big Sur Roadhouse that opened recently. The venue isn't new -- the eatery has existed in some form for years -- but the owners of Glen Oaks Big Sur renovated the interior and the exterior, and Glazer rethought the menu. Small bites, breakfast, lunch and dinner are served at the chic new addition to Highway 1's culinary kitsch.

--Mary Forgione

2 / 8 Buy PhotosSHARE:

Big Sur Roadhouse

(James Hall Photography)

The Big Sur Roadhouse is set among the redwoods at 47080 Highway 1. The sleek restaurant has an airy feel with fireplaces inside and out.

DEALS & NEWS

TRAVEL DEALS, TIPS AND ADVICE FILTERED
FOR RESTLESS SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

 Connect

